Bungalow Potter creates beautiful, functional pottery for everyday use, focusing on the beauty of classic design and creating one-of-a-kind pieces for everyone.

I believe that best things in life should never gather dust and you'll always want them around. These are the things that have more ideas in them than meets the eye. I also believe that the simplest tools leave behind the most profound, handmade work, making the most beautiful and honest forms. This is why I do pottery. There is no higher joy than creating honest beauty.

This commitment to intention, quality, and honesty is what guides my work, everyday. While not everything in life that is handmade can be exceptionally high quality, be rest assured that Bungalow Potter takes your pot from clay to table with you as a collaborator, and uses the highest quality natural stoneware and food-safe minerals to formulate glazes.

Discover the custom dinnerware lines I've created, and let me help you find the one that is both your style, and meets your needs best.

Check out my online store as well. I've curated exceptionally handmade and high quality goods that I believe in and use everyday. From olive-wood cutting boards, polish blown glass drinkware, to hand-forged flatware, you'll find exceptional beauty and functionality in every item you bring to your table from Bungalow Potter.

ORDERING GUIDELINES

Due to the handcrafted nature of our products, Bungalow Potter requires 4-6 weeks for dinnerware sets. I often need time to make the clay, form the piece, fire and glaze it, and then get the finished pieces on their way to you.

VARIATION

All my items are inspected by hand, as I take great care and joy in the satisfaction of our customers and quality of our products. Irregularities and variation in glaze color are inherent due to the handcrafted nature of our pieces. I feel this adds to the natural beauty and unique quality of my products and are in no way to be considered flaws.

QUALITY + CARE

My dinnerware is microwave, oven and dishwasher safe if used properly. It should not, however, be placed over direct heat, heated to over 400°, or shocked from one extreme (hot/cold) temperature to another. To remove marks left by silverware, I suggest using Bar Keepers Friend—available for purchase in my online store, and in most major hardware stores.

SHIPPING

Orders are shipped UPS Ground. I do not ship to PO boxes due to UPS shipping restrictions. For expedited order requests, please contact me at orders@bungalowpotter.com for details and rates. I'll do my best to accommodate, depending on my inventory, if applicable. Most all pieces are custom.

DAMAGE OR BREAKAGE

Any breakage upon shipping must be reported to claims@bungalowpotter.com within two business days from receipt. All items are insured with FedEx, UPS, or USPS during shipping. You must provide pictures and a list of items, as packing slips are sent with orders. I will re-ship your product once the preferred has obtained possession of the package and the products are available for shipment.

EXCHANGES

Since all the work I do is custom, I cannot offer refunds or exchanges. Potter's specials cannot be returned and are sold as-is.

TO THE TRADE

Trade discounts are available if you are a restaurant, hotel, designer, architect or other industry specifier. All Trade customers must set up an account with Bungalow Potter by providing a resale license or tax ID number. Minimum order is $1000 (COGs only). Bungalow Potter does not do wholesale to retails or resellers, but only to authorized gallery vendors. Trade Customers, trade@bungalowpotter.com
